

TRACK MASTERS

TRACK MASTERS

It's world famous and the stuff of legend, the world's longest racing circuit, the Nordschleife. It winds through the Eifel forest and attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors every year, both on and along the track...

Racing ace Jackie Stewart has described the Nordschleife of the Nürburgring as a 'many-armed monster' and named it the 'Green Hell'. He himself won three Formula One races on the track. Now the circuit is open on 'Drive Days' for the general public.

Motorvision accompanies the fans who are 'racers in their hearts' when they venture onto the Nordschleife with their own cars. Great pictures, plenty of action and a close look on passionately ambitious drivers.
